Name:_____ Date:_____

Journal Prompt: Lesson 10

Imagine you have been accused of committing a serious act of vandalism at school that you had nothing to do with. How would the accusation make you feel? What would you do? Do you think your closet friends and family members would believe you and support you, no matter what, or might they turn against you?